

Expressivness in Association to Attachment Style

Claudia Bobadilla

August 9, 2023

```
library(haven)
```

```
labdata<-read_sav("SummerStatsFinalProject/data_ier 2.sav")
```

Predictions

A participant higher in avoidant attachment style is less willing to express negative emotions.

A participant higher in avoidant attachment style is less willing to express positive emotions.

A participant higher in anxious attachment style is less willing to express negative emotions.

A participant higher in anxious attachment style is more willing to express positive emotions.